8. (S/NF) Comment: It is unclear to what extent SARG intelligence services understand how USG money enters Syria and through which proxy organizations. What is clear, however, is that security agents are increasingly focused on this issue when they interrogate human rights and civil society activists. The information agents are able to frame their questions with more and more specific information and names. XXXXXXXXXXXXX suggest the SARG has keyed in on MEPI operations in particular.

9. (C) Comment continued: XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX Except for the Netherlands' public stalling of the EU Association Agreement over human rights, Syrian activists have heard little in the way of support from the international community.
